

FLY LOCAL TRAVEL POLICY

To recognize the Eastern Iowa Airport (CID) as an essential strategic economic engine for the ICR Iowa region and the border regions of Illinois and Wisconsin, we the undersigned, pledge our support to CID's Fly Local Travel Policy.

Air service is a critical asset that must be integrated into regional economic development discussions. Commercial air service cannot be taken for granted as communities are increasingly competing to retain and attract air service. Success will only be achieved through focused regional efforts and the willingness by area businesses, community leaders, and governmental entities to invest in their local air service. This investment is best demonstrated by adopting a travel guideline that encourages and supports the use of air service at the Eastern Iowa Airport (CID).

enthusiastically pledges our support for the Eastern Iowa Airport by adopting the Fly Local Travel Policy.

The elements of Fly Local Travel Policy are:

When using air travel, the employee will first explore the option of using the Eastern Iowa Airport (CID). If a flight from CID is available and within four (4) hours of travel time each way from flights available at competing airports; and if the cost of the CID flight is within $300 of the lowest priced tickets at a competing airport, the employee will be required to use CID. Any exception to this policy to use an alternate airport must be authorized in advance by _____.

The Company will also require vendors and/or suppliers utilizing air travel into eastern Iowa to fly CID exclusively.
